

President's Report – 2024

If our goal is to provide interesting and stimulating lectures on a wide range of topics, we have had a successful year. Speakers have provided opportunities for us to think, to be stimulated, to disagree and agree and to prompt us to seek further information. This is what U3A is all about. Our speakers uniformly speak well of our group, of our overall organisation, our hospitality, the audio-visual capability, and of the positive response to their lectures.

None of this happens by chance but is due to a hard-working committed committee to whom I give much thanks. It is also a tribute to our members who turn up in large numbers and form an appreciative and questioning audience (many of whom also help to put the chairs away!)

We look forward to another year of stimulating lectures.
