4 March Selected Artworks from the Aigantighe Collection. Petrena Fishburn

The permanent collections in our public art galleries tell a story of our history. The collection curator at the Aigantighe Art Gallery will speak about some of the history of the Aigantighe, through a selection of artworks held in the Gallery's collection.

11 March A Brief history of Moving Image in Contemporary Art. Steve Carr

Steve Carr will discuss and present works by artists who have experimented with the medium of the moving image. This lecture is an edited version from his Film 101 class, intended to develop and expand first-year students' contemporary knowledge and understanding of the sound and video genre.

THE U3A TIMARU ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING 2024, WILL FOLLOW THIS LECTURE.

18 March I Don't Want Your Golden Apple and Other Fruitiness. Anita deSoto

Her paintings pay homage to the Baroque era while highlighting the ongoing struggle for women's rights. In today's world, where these rights are at risk, it's essential to revisit history and acknowledge the persecution women endured during witch hunts. Challenging traditional gender roles, sparking a postmodern discourse, this poses an invitation to question the portrayals of gender by European artists of the past and serves as a platform to discuss women's stories.
